To ensure a safe campus, the George Washington University community must work together by understanding our responsibilities if an emergency should occur. GW continually takes measures and allocates resources to promote a safe campus for all students, faculty and staff. Take a moment to review the information presented in this booklet and reflect on your role.

Sincerely,

Louis H. Katz
Executive Vice President and Treasurer

Steven Lerman
Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

The George Washington University Office of Safety and Security—comprised of the Office of Emergency Management, Office of Health and Safety and GW Police Department—is tasked with promoting a safe campus and protecting our community. This cannot be accomplished alone and requires involvement from all corners of the university, including students, faculty and staff. Working together, the university can address ever-evolving challenges.

We have developed this handbook to help with emergency preparedness efforts. The following sections address how to prepare and respond in emergency situations that may arise while on campus. Help make GW a safer university by becoming familiar with this guide and placing it somewhere visible and easily accessible.

Respectfully,

Darrell Darnell
Senior Associate Vice President for Safety and Security
